Prize Winning Newspaper

NUMBER 46

AROUND THE FLOWING WELL

By Paul E. Cunningham

With this week's issue responsibility for publishing The Clipper passes into the hands of Thorne Lane, now of Elba but recently of Greensboro, N. C.

Printing The Clipper has entailed a lot of downright hard work. There has been many 50 and 60 hour weeks and occasionally some that ran to 80. Mixed with the long hours and hard work has been the pleasure of getting acquainted with the fine people of this area.

The entire association has been very beneficial to us. A main reason my wife and I have for selling The Clipper is to purchase a larger newspaper. Right now we do not know where it will be located but we hope to stay in the South — and the closer to Elba, the better we will like it.

For the next month we will stay in Elba to help Mr. Lane get acquainted with folks "Around the Flowing Well" as well as to introduce him to the technical problems involved in printing a weekly newspaper.

Then there will be the tedious and time-consuming job of hunting for a property that fits our specifications and pocketbook. From experience we know it takes time and looking to get located. Before coming to Elba we looked at 40 different newspapers and traveled over 10,000 miles in our quest for the "right spot."

We settled on Elba — the best choice we could possibly have made. People and fortune have been kind to us here.

So while this is a farewell note as The Clipper's chief editorial writer and one of the paper's columnists, folks will still see "The Cunningshams" around Elba for some time. We plan to use our home here as the base for our newspaper-hunting excursions. And may be now I will have time to cut the weeds in my yard so it will come up to the standard of appearance of other homes on Sunset Boulevard.

THORNE LANE TAKES OVER—Clipper Changes Managers

The Elba Clipper has changed management and ownership. Effective May 1, Mr. & Mrs. Paul E. Cunningham disposed of their ownership of this newspaper to The Elba Printing Co., Inc., with Thorne Lane, a former resident of Alabama, as editor, publisher and general manager.

Mr. & Mrs. Cunningham have operated The Clipper since August, 1948.

Mr. Lane comes to Elba from Greensboro, N. C. where he was a member of the display department of The News and Record, morning and afternoon dailies. He was a reporter for the Daily Times, Huntsville, Ala., in 1925-27, and for the next 14 years was associated with newspapers at Fla., having become editor of The News - Herald, Panama City, when it was converted from a weekly to a daily in 1935. He remained in that position five years.

My association with The Western Auto has been in newspaper work for more than 30 years. He is married, has three daughters, the two oldest married and the third will graduate in June from Curry High School, Greensboro, Mr. Lane is a Methodist. He is a lifelong Democrat in politics.

Mrs. Lane is the former Sybil Yarbrough, who was born in Georgia and reared in Northwest Florida, though her maternal great grandparents lived in southern Alabama and are interested at Tennille and Brundidge, near here.

When the store opens Thursday morning, it will not close until Saturday, midnight, Mr. English said.

This week marks Mr. English's Tenth Anniversary with his store in Elba, the Forty-Eighth Anniversary of the founding of Western Auto Associate Stores, Maytag's Fifty-Fifth Anniversary, and Hotpoint's Fifty-First Anniversary.

As Elba's "Appliance Supermarket", Western Auto is the dealer for Maytag and Hotpoint products as well as Frigidaire and others.

In 1947 Mr. English opened the Western Auto Associate

Store on the Square with a line of automotive parts and a few appliances, and four years ago his business had expanded to the point that he leased the adjoining store property and put in modern display facilities.

WITH COUNTY FRA UNIT—

Farmers Maintaining Credit

Farm families in Coffee County who are using credit obtained through the Farmers Home Administration are making efficient use of the funds and are maintaining a good repayment record, according to a report by the agency's county supervisor, James S. Pridgen.

Many farmers are using the loan funds to obtain higher grade livestock including pure bred boar and sows, improve their pastures, buy proper types and amounts of fertilizer, recommended variety of seeds, and to finance similar steps toward better farming. So far this fiscal year, or since June 30, 1956, farmers in Coffee County have repaid a total of $160,370 on all types of loans.

The Farmers Home Administration provides loans to farm better, buy or improve farms, build or repair farm buildings, improve soil and water conservation practices, meet emergency needs, or take care of certain refinancing problems, Mr. Pridgen said.

Farmers Home Administration credit is supplied on the basis of supplementing credit from other sources, he explained. The loans are available only when other lenders are not in position to supply the credit the farmers need to get the greatest possible returns from their land and family labor resources.

The average time taken by farmers in the county to repay their loans for farm operating purposes, and to reach the point where they can obtain credit from conventional lenders, is approximately seven years, Mr. Pridgen said.

Before a loan is closed, the agency and the applicant plan ahead to make sure that every loan will be repayable from planned income.

In addition to credit, farmers with Farm Home Administration loans receive necessary aid with farm and home management problems and in keeping records that help them to keep their farm business on a sound financial basis.

SPOTTED ALFALFA APHID—

Insects Threaten Alfalfa

AUBURN — A new insect enemy may launch a full scale invasion on Alabama's alfalfa fields shortly.

API Extension Entomologist, that the invader, known as the spotted alfalfa aphid, a sent scouting patrols into extreme West Alabama late last summer. And with crossed fingers he declared that it is quite possible that a serious outbreak could occur anywhere in the state this year.

Ruffin urged farmers everywhere to keep a sharp eye out for the unwelcome newcomer, pointing out that this insect has an unbelievable multiplication rate and a fantastic appetite. He particularly stressed the importance of carefully watching new alfalfa plantings. Farmers can spot the insect through a serious yellow leaf discoloration. If yellow leaves are noted in very many plants, then he advised the farmer to contact his county agent immediately for a diagnosis and control instructions.

Ruffin explained that treatment should be carried out as soon as possible. The insect is difficult to fight, even with steps toward better farming. So far this fiscal year, or since June 30, 1956, farmers in Coffee County have repaid a total of $160,370 on all types of loans.

The Farmers Home Administration provides loans to farm better, buy or improve farms, build or repair farm buildings, improve soil and water conservation practices, meet emergency needs, or take care of certain refinancing problems, Mr. Pridgen said.

Farmers Home Administration credit is supplied on the basis of supplementing credit from other sources, he explained. The loans are available only when other lenders are not in position to supply the credit the farmers need to get the greatest possible returns from their land and family labor resources.

The average time taken by farmers in the county to repay their loans for farm operating purposes, and to reach the point where they can obtain credit from conventional lenders, is approximately seven years, Mr. Pridgen said.

Before a loan is closed, the agency and the applicant plan ahead to make sure that every loan will be repayable from planned income.

In addition to credit, farmers with Farm Home Administration loans receive necessary aid with farm and home management problems and in keeping records that help them to keep their farm business on a sound financial basis.

Coffee County good road enthusiasts and motorists are jubilant over the announcement that within the next few months they will have the privilege of riding over some paved or hard-surfaced road in the county.

This announcement was made this week following a meeting of the Commissioners' Court at which the Board pledged the cooperation with the State and Federal Highway Depts. in the proposed highway running east and west across Southeast Alabama to connect with Highway 31 at Brewton. The highway will enter the county at the Dale County line beyond Enterprise and extend through Enterprise, New Brockton, Elba and on to the Covington County line between Elba and Opp. The road is to be built on the three-way plan now in operation in many counties of the state, with the county, state and Federal Government cooperating. A small portion of the route about six miles, from Enterprise toward Dothan, has already been paved and a stretch through New Brockton has been graded and will receive the hard surface treatment as soon as the weather permits. A small stretch in the City of Elba leading toward Opp has also been graded and will receive the hard surface treatment within a few months. When completed, the new road will be part of Highway 84 which has been planned for several years, having its beginning on the Atlantic Coast at Brunswick, Ga., running west across the state and entering Alabama and touching Indian Enterprise, New Brockton, Elba, Opp, Andalusia and Brewton. The highway offers a new route through this section connecting the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts and will traverse a section without a main highway at the present time.

Through the Keyhole

BY MRS. ROBERT CANNON

As attractive a couple as we have seen in this one, Charles and Betty Joyce Ellis, and Charles Ross, who is the undisputed "head of the house." It seems that we never get to see these two, and Thelma Clark said she felt the same way. They stay busy in Tuscaloosa where Charles is attending the University and of course all of us know that the young man with them keeps Betty Joyce on the run! The years will pass quickly, however, and we hope to have them back here permanently before too long.

A YARD FULL of happiness can be found at Stokes Haire's house. Countless fat puppies are playing there, tumbling over each other in their eagerness to be the pup that Sara Priest selects to hold for a minute. The little fellows are so cute that we were tempted to get back in the puppy business.

OUR THOUGHTS are with the Elbians in Mt. Zion Memorial Hospital in Opp. Maude Marler has been there for many days, having undergone surgery, but may be home by the time this goes to press. Surely has been strange not to have a few friendly words from "Maude" each day. Carolyn Stokes told us last week that Bill's father would be in the hospital as he too had an operation. Perhaps he, too, will be up and about soon.

BLESSED EVENT! And the stork left a beautiful bundle for us. A handsome little boy who, we know, will be as cute and sweet as big brother.

THIS'N THAT — We are adding Dr. Hayes' name to that list of gentle, soft-spoken men that we admire. . . . Our idea of fun — to get to "plan" around in Ella Jeter's house. What a good time she had admiring some heirloom pieces of silver she has acquired. Silver is a weakness of mine as well as a hobby. . . . Belton Stanbury is one of the hardest working men I know. . . . The Elba Library is a pleasant place to go. I am glad each time I rediscover that fact. And the charms of television are definitely a bedside good book. . . . So good to see Miss Nell Flournoy up and around again. . . . Ann Nickols is a breath of spring.

MODERN ETIQUETTE

By Roberta Lee

Q. When a hostess sends a couple an invitation to dinner, and the invitation has not been acknowledged, what should she do?

A. She can telephone this couple and ask if the invitation has been received, as it is possible that it could have gone astray. If, however, the invitation was received, I would suggest that the hostess cut these ill-mannered persons off any future guest lists.

Q. When you have been asked to pass a dish at the table, and you were just about to partake of that dish yourself, is it all right to help yourself?

A. No, this would be very crude and ill-bred, unless, of course, the other person insists that you do so.

Q. What apology should one offer if one accidentally brushes against another person on the street, or in some public conveyance?

A. "I am sorry," or "I beg your pardon."

THE ELBA CLIPPER

FARM BRIEFS

Since 1938 approximately 6500 Alabama farmers have quit growing cotton each year, according to A.P.I. Extension Service Director P. O. Davis.

Soybean farm stocks estimated at 116 million bushels are the largest April stocks on record. They are almost double last year's stocks and well over twice the average, according to the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture's Crop Production Report.

Almost half of the American families buy on the installment plan. Federal economists estimated that in 1955 buyers undertook almost $14 worth of new installments for each $100 of personal income after tax deductions.

May is the month when most spring seed crops are harvested, cleaned, bagged and stored for later sales.

Common causes of soybean failure are poor soil, incorrect fertilization and liming, planting seed too close of the tiller, and no control of the grass and weeds.

A new cotton loom, developed by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture turns out fabrics with a built-in wind and water resistance.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

To insure a good start when moving to a new home, pick articles in boxes labeled to show their contents and the room where they will be used.

Sheets with hemstitched hems are attractive but will not give the same service as machine-hemmed sheets.

In the Southeast, May will be a good month to serve beef, turkey and eggs at family meals, according to the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

Cast iron cooking utensils are good for slow-cooking food durable and economical, but heavy to handle.

A sheet should be large enough to tuck under the mattress five or six inches on all sides. And if it is used as a top sheet, it should fold back eight to 10 inches to protect the other bedding.

Soup or detergent, dish and pot scrapers, cleaning powders

Thursday, May 2, 1957

and other dishwashing needs

should be kept within easy reach of the kitchen sink.

A half - shelf in the linen closet furnishes a handy space to keep wash cloths, hand towels and guest towels.

When ironing, protect both zipper and placket fabrics by laying a pressing cloth over them and then ironing very gently.

Mr. and Mrs. McNeil of Frisco City were week end guests of their son Mr. and Mrs. Charlie McNeil.

About People And Things

BY C. B. McDOWELL

WILL STAY WITH CLIPPER
Since it was announced that The Elba Clipper had changed ownership and management, I have been asked numerous times whether or not I would remain with The Elba Clipper.

Yes, it seems that I was considered part of the deal and Mr. Lane, the new editor, has asked me to continue in the same capacity that I have been functioning for 10, these many years.

At this point I wish to say that my association with Mr. & Mrs. Cunningham has been very enjoyable. I sincerely regret that they have decided to give up The Elba Clipper and I hope they will continue in the same capacity that I have been functioning for 10, these many years.
